AGENTS FOR INCLUSION

MIGRANTS AND REFUGEES

Everyday, people all over the world make the difficult decision to leave their homes in search of a safer, better life. There are various reasons for this, including seeking employment, education, escaping persecution, human rights violations, armed conflicts, or violence. These individuals are referred to as migrants and refugees.

But, what is the difference between a migrant and a refugee? The main difference between a migrant and a refugee is that a migrant chooses to move voluntarily, whereas a refugee is forced to leave their home due to threats or dangers.

AGENTS FOR INCLUSION

According to the UNHCR, the majority of refugees under their mandate and individuals requiring international protection come from five countries: Syrian Arab Republic, Venezuela, Ukraine, Afghanistan, and South Sudan. These people face numerous challenges, including the risk of exploitation, detention, racism, xenophobia, and discrimination, as they strive to build new lives in a foreign country.

THE TOOLS WE ALL NEED

The first results of our project and conclusions were drawn from the collaborative efforts of all partners, leading to significant impact. This initial activity with youth proved to be crucial, as it revealed the firsthand skills demands. The comprehensive identification of these needs ensured that the tools developed would effectively address them.

Unearned advantages or benefits that certain individuals or groups have based on their social identities, such as race, gender, or socioeconomic status.

INCLUSIVE EDUCATION

Equitable educational opportunities can help to promote long-lasting, inclusive economic growth and social cohesion. Successful education and skills policies can empower individuals to reach their full potential and enjoy the fruits of their labour, regardless of their circumstances at birth. However, far too many learners and adults from socio-economically disadvantaged backgrounds fall behind.

Indirect, subtle, or unintentional discrimination against members of a marginalized group.
